SAN FRANCISCO

AMB Property Corporation(R) , a leading global developer and owner of industrial real estate, today announced it has leased 362,000 square feet at a development project in eastern Pennsylvania to Cooper Tire & Rubber Company.

"We're pleased to welcome Cooper Tire to AMB I-78 Distribution Center," said Jay Cornforth, managing director of AMB's East Region. "Cooper Tire's decision to locate here underscores the importance of the Allentown/Lehigh Valley submarket, which is a natural extension of northern New Jersey's industrial marketplace." The phased development, currently 700,000 square feet and expected to total approximately 1.2 million square feet across two buildings upon completion, complements AMB's active northern New Jersey pipeline.

"With direct access to major regional distribution transportation routes and proximity to population densities in the northeast and mid-Atlantic, AMB I-78 Distribution Center's location gives us the flexibility to optimize our network and better meet our regional distribution requirements," commented Mark Plesec, manager, Distribution Operations at Cooper Tire & Rubber Company. "Additionally, the facility's modern and sustainable design specifications will enable us to improve operational efficiencies as well as reduce energy consumption within the building."

As of September 30, 2008, the company's most recent reporting quarter, AMB's portfolio in its northern New Jersey/New York market, which includes eastern Pennsylvania, totaled more than 13.1 million square feet of operating and under development facilities.
