SAN FRANCISCO

AMB Property Corporation(R) , a leading global owner, operator and developer of industrial real estate, today announced that AMB Kasugai Distribution Center in Nagoya, Japan received the highest ranking of certification by the Comprehensive Assessment System for Building Environmental Efficiency (CASBEE).

"As the first logistics facility to receive the highest CASBEE ranking, AMB Kasugai Distribution Center is a model of sustainable development best practices. Customers indicate that energy efficient buildings are a requirement when selecting space, and are increasingly focused on features that reduce operating costs and increase market competitiveness," said Michael Evans, AMB's managing director, Asia. "This development demonstrates AMB's commitment to sustainability in Japan and is expected to advance our leasing efforts."

The Revised Energy Saving Act was recently passed in Japan, promoting the effective use of energy and resources in transportation activities. Design features of AMB Kasugai Distribution Center include the preservation of natural habitat by balancing high density vertical development with protected forested areas, as well as efficient building systems that reduce energy use and operating costs.

AMB Kasugai Distribution Center, a 986,000 square foot (91,600 square meter) multi-story development, is located in the Akechi-Kasugai industrial area of Nagoya.

As of December 31, 2008, AMB's portfolio in Japan totaled more than 10.5 million square feet (976,800 square meters) of operating and under development properties.

About CASBEE

CASBEE is a ranking standard by Japan's Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism that comprehensively assesses a building's ability to reduce environmental impact through energy conservation, resource saving, and recycling of resources, as well as its environmental quality and performance such as workspace comfort and consideration for its natural surroundings.

Some of the information included in this media alert contains forward-looking statements, such as the occupation of AMB Kasugai Distribution Center, continued leasing of AMB's buildings, and the company's ability to meet future customer demand, which are made pursuant to the safe-harbor provisions of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Because these forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties, there are important factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements, and you should not rely on the forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. The events or circumstances reflected in forward-looking statements might not occur. You can identify forward-looking statements by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "believes," "expects," "may," "will," "should," "seeks," "approximately," "intends," "plans," "pro forma," "estimates" or "anticipates" or the negative of these words and phrases or similar words or phrases. You can also identify forward-looking statements by discussions of strategy, plans or intentions. Forward-looking statements are necessarily dependent on assumptions, data or methods that may be incorrect or imprecise and we may not be able to realize them. We caution you not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which reflect our analysis only and speak only as of the date of this report or the dates indicated in the statements. We assume no obligation to update or supplement forward-looking statements. The following factors, among others, could cause actual results and future events to differ materially from those set forth or contemplated in the forward-looking statements: changes in general economic conditions, global trade or in the real estate sector (including risks relating to decreasing real estate valuations and impairment charges); risks associated with using debt to fund our business activities, including re-financing and interest rate risks; our failure to obtain, renew, or extend necessary financing or access the debt or equity markets; our failure to maintain our current credit agency ratings or comply with our debt covenants; risks related to our obligations in the event of certain defaults under co-investment venture and other debt; risks associated with equity and debt securities financings and issuances (including the risk of dilution); a continued or prolonged downturn in the California, U.S., or the global economy or real estate conditions and other financial market fluctuations; defaults on or non-renewal of leases by customers or renewal at lower than expected rent; risks and uncertainties relating to the disposition of properties to third parties and our ability to effect such transactions on advantageous terms and to timely reinvest proceeds from any such dispositions; our failure to contribute properties to our co-investment ventures due to such factors as our inability to acquire, develop, or lease properties that meet the investment criteria of such ventures, or our co-investment ventures' inability to access debt and equity capital to pay for property contributions or their allocation of available capital to cover other capital requirements such as future redemptions; difficulties in identifying properties to acquire and in effecting acquisitions on advantageous terms and the failure of acquisitions to perform as we expect; risks and uncertainties affecting property development, redevelopment and value-added conversions (including construction delays, cost overruns, our inability to obtain necessary permits and financing, our inability to lease properties at all or at favorable rents and terms, and public opposition to these activities); risks of doing business internationally and global expansion, including unfamiliarity with new markets and currency risks; risks of changing personnel and roles; losses in excess of our insurance coverage; unknown liabilities acquired in connection with acquired properties or otherwise; our failure to successfully integrate acquired properties and operations; changes in local, state and federal regulatory requirements, including changes in real estate and zoning laws; increases in real property tax rates; risks associated with our tax structuring; increases in interest rates and operating costs or greater than expected capital expenditures; environmental uncertainties and risks related to natural disasters; and our failure to qualify and maintain our status as a real estate investment trust. Our success also depends upon economic trends generally, including interest rates, income tax laws, governmental regulation, legislation, population changes, various market conditions and fluctuations and those other risk factors discussed under the heading "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in our most recent annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008.
