Prologis Advances 35 Positions to Number 54

PR Newswire
SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Prologis, Inc. (NYSE: PLD), the leading global owner, operator and developer of industrial real estate, today announced its inclusion in the 2013 Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations in the World list. The Global 100, announced annually at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, is recognized as the gold standard in corporate sustainability analysis and consists of the 100 top-performing companies worldwide based on a range of sector-specific 'sustainability' metrics.

Prologis has a comprehensive approach to sustainability, encompassing three dimensions: environmental stewardship, social responsibility and governance. As the leading global provider of certified sustainable logistics space, Prologis has developed more than 43 million square feet (four million square meters) of facilities meeting green building standards. In addition, it has completed energy efficiency improvements in 60 percent of its global property portfolio, and installed 100 megawatts of solar panels as part of its commitment to renewable energy.

The company continues to support charitable activities in the communities where it operates through financial contributions from the Prologis Foundation, supporting employee volunteer efforts, and donating warehouse space to nonprofit organizations.

"2013 was another outstanding year for our sustainability efforts and we're pleased to be recognized by the Global 100 for the sixth consecutive year," said Steve Campbell, SVP, head of environmental, engineering and sustainability. "This honor is a testimony to our commitment to own a global portfolio of energy-efficient facilities that enable our customers to enhance operations and minimize environmental impact."
